LOUD & PROUD

A showcase of Auckland's experimental and underground LGBTQ+ musicians. Auckland's experimental music scene is rich with diverse performers that have long been disconnected from the mainstream queer community due to the experimental nature of their art. We hope to showcase the best queer performers in the experimental music and noise category so that they may no longer be sidelined. Queer music is as fluid and diverse as the community it comes from, and we're looking forward to being a part of a festival that strives to be fully representative of all of us.

JULIEN BAKER AT THE TUNING FORK

Julien Baker's solo debut, 'Sprained Ankle', was one of the most widely acclaimed works of 2015. The album was a bleak yet hopeful, intimate document of staggering experiences and grace, centered entirely around Baker's voice, guitar, and unblinking honesty. With 2017's stand out release on Matador Records, 'Turn Out The Lights', the 21-year-old Baker returned to the world on a much bigger stage, but with the same core of breathtaking vulnerability and resilience.

HOMOS, OR EVERYONE IN AMERICA

Equality is here. Yeah, so now what? As the pendulum of progress continues to swing, a first date at a New York bar starts two men on a fearless, funny and fragmented journey leading up to a historic moment of change. No-fault hookups, marriage equality, poppers and self-outing teenagers. This is a post-gay guide for survival.

Award-winning director Shane Bosher [Cock, Angels in America, A Streetcar Named Desire] returns to Q Theatre to direct this brilliantly provocative take on that four-letter word called love.

OFFLINE ONSITE HOOKUPS

Offline Onsite Hookups take time, it seems to happen slowly over the space of a few hours. It is something about questioning and testing body techniques where people are watching from a distance, where there is a longing for no distance, for some kind of a closeness, but also an uncertainty about how to make that happen. And then some unstated rules about what is done and not done that seem to get in the way.

#OURMARCH

#ourmarch is a free event facilitated by Auckland Pride to allow any member of our LGBTQ+ communities and those who share the kaupapa of the Auckland Pride Festival 2019 to take part in the hikoi. All are welcome to join in and show their Pride.

#ourmarch will take the Auckland Central graduation route, beginning Albert Park as a nod to LGBTQ+ history in Tāmaki Makaurau, as the site of the first gay liberation protest in 1972.

Gathering from 4.30pm, the march will proceed down Victoria Street, up Queen Street into Aotea Square, and culminating in a celebration in Myers Park which will run until 9pm with music, dancing and kai trucks.

Individuals, groups and organisations wanting to participate in #ourmarch should sign up via aucklandpride.org.nz/ourmarch-signup/ to allow us best accommodate your questions, concerns and access requirements.

HONoured WRITER PETER WELLS

Peter Wells' work shows a commitment to change in Aotearoa New Zealand society, from writing one of the earliest pieces of fiction a gay New Zealander has published under his own name (Dangerous Desires), to writing and co-directing television dramas. He founded our own samesame but different Festival in 2016 to advance the interests of LGBTQ+ writers.

FOUNDERS LECTURE GEORGINA BEYER

Georgina Beyer is a person who literally needs no introduction, so it hardly seems necessary to add that she has been variously a prostitute, an entertainer, a mayor and the first trans MP in the world. Fresh from speaking to both the Oxford and Cambridge University Unions, Georgina Beyer talks about five key decisions that – for better or for worse – have shaped her extraordinary life.

SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIAL: HUDSON AND HALLS: TRAGEDY AND TRIUMPH

On stage, in front of a camera, in life and in death, the inseparable Hudson and Halls rewrote our recipes for life and love. Long before homosexuality was decriminalised, they introduced New Zealand television audiences to high-camp cooking, yet they never said a public word about the great issues of the time: HIV and Homosexual Law Reform.

SAMOAN QUEER LIVES BOOK LAUNCH

Samoan Queer Lives is a book featuring a collection of autobiographical pieces by fa'afafine, transgender, and queer people of Sāmoa, one of the original continuous indigenous queer cultures of Polynesia and the Pacific Islands. Fa'afafine have lived their culture for as long as Samoans in the South Pacific can remember – and although their lives were ridiculed and then outlawed by explorers, missionaries, and colonial authorities, fa'afafine survived and thrived. Samoan Queer Lives is a new book of fa'afafine autobiographical stories from the 1940s into the 21st century.

FIRST I LAY WITH ADAM

FIRST I LAY WITH ADAM by Sam Duckor-Jones is a personal response to Pride and queerness. His installation features large ceramic vases in neon pink, alongside tiny close-up drawings of hair and skin, crammed into former domestic spaces of the historic Pah Homestead.

Duckor-Jones makes ceramics and writes from his home in Wairarapa and examines queerness, intimacy and voice in his work. He has exhibited extensively across New Zealand and a new major public work – eight large ceramic figures – was installed at Wellington Airport in January 2019. Sam is represented by Bowen Galleries.
